DISASTER ONE OPENS NEW OFFICE IN FAYETTEVILLE, NC

Fayetteville, NC – September 30, 2011 –

Disaster One, Inc. a leading restoration company serving the Southeast U.S., announced today it is expanding its business in North Carolina with the opening of a new office in Fayetteville. John Gist, regional manager of Disaster One’s Raleigh division, will also oversee the Fayetteville office.

“We’re excited to be in Fayetteville,” said Rasmus Fenger, Disaster One President. “We’ve already done a great deal of work in Cumberland County, beginning with helping out a lot of folks who suffered losses during the tornadoes that hit last spring.”

Disaster One was asked to step in and assist with the overwhelming volume of repair claims insurance companies faced in the aftermath of April tornadoes that ripped through North Carolina. The opening of its Fayetteville office expands the company’s ability to provide local restoration support, and demonstrates its long-term commitment to the area.

“We see a need for a local full-service restoration company that can respond quickly to a property loss,” stated Gist. “We’ve been serving North Carolina for over 34 years, and now that we’re in Fayetteville we can continue to provide that level of service locally. We’re absolutely committed to serving the needs of our customers 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. “
